

Re: proceeding 02-278

I am very concerned about any proposal to incorporate into any national law/rule any proposal that may lessen the state of Indiana's telephone Privacy Law protections(s), i.e: No-call list.

Since having signed up on the State of Indiana's 'no-call' list, the volume of unsolicited telephone calls to my residence has lessened incredibly. Where I (we) used to receive upwards of 40 calls a month, we now receive perhaps 1.

My suggestion is: if you are going to do anything, you need to have a law/regulation that is EXACTLY like Indiana's.

I do not and can not support anything less stringent than the law currently on the books in/for the state of Indiana, and certainly oppose any attempt to weaken or lessen said law.
